

DESI PROTEIN

Academic Project | Digital Brand & E-commerce Concept

2026

Project Overview

Desi Protein is an academic digital-brand and e-commerce project built around protein products inspired by familiar Indian/Desi food flavours and consumer preferences. The project translates this concept into a customer-oriented digital brand and online shopping experience.

Project Objective

To develop a differentiated protein brand concept that combines the functional appeal of protein products with culturally familiar Indian flavour preferences, supported by a dedicated digital storefront.

Key Focus Areas

- Brand positioning around an Indian/Desi flavour proposition
- Digital product presentation and e-commerce experience
- Customer-focused brand communication
- Application of digital marketing, branding, and consumer behaviour concepts

Project Outcome

Developed a digital storefront that communicates the Desi Protein concept and presents its product proposition through a structured online brand experience.
